
PLEASING PLEATS

In a kitchen with a low ceiling, the 'Hector Large Pleat' lights by Original BTC would make an attractive alternative to recessed lighting. The pleated shades are made from bone china in Stoke-on-Trent, and the bases are available in antique brass (shown), satin brass and brushed aluminium; £199 each. originalbtc.com

LEAF ENCOUNTER

With sculpted leaves on a textured brass frame, 'Colombier Chandeliers' from Vaughan make a bold statement above a dining table or a kitchen island. In this brass finish, they cost £2,975 each. They are also available in a bronze, nickel or chalk-white painted finish. 020 7349 4600; vaughandesigns.com

ALL CLEAR

Shown here with brushed-brass knobs on an acrylic plate, Forbes & Lomax's '3 Gang Invisible Rotary Dimmer' can dim or brighten lighting as needed. Also available in eight other finishes, including aged brass, nickel silver and verdigris, the dimmer costs from £84. 020 7738 0202; forbesandlomax.com

1

2

3

Hard news: lights with solid shades

1 HECTOR FINCH Made in the company's Herefordshire factory, this 'Tiber' wall light has a ribbed glass shade that can be custom-painted to any RAL colour and comes in seven finishes, including antique brass. It costs £768. hectorfinch.com 2 LIGHTS & LAMPS With porcelain shades in a matt finish, 'Waverly' casts a soft light, making it an ideal choice for an intimate dining area; £399. lightsandlamps.com 3 VISUAL COMFORT & CO Designed by Julie Neill, the 'Theo' steel pendant is shown in celadon and gild. It also comes in pale blue and gild, and soft white and gild; £1,043. visualcomfort.com □