

A 'Year of Listening'

Your chance to have your say on local cancer services

A 'Year of Listening' is an exciting new 12-month community health project seeking to understand the barriers and challenges local people are experiencing in accessing local cancer treatment and support services.

We want to hear from local residents whose lives has been touched by cancer (whether it is them or someone they know) with the view to improving access to services and treatment for all.

Do you live in Medway or Swale and have had your life impacted by cancer?

Want to have your say or find out more?

Then, come along to our next event:

We have members from the 'Year of Listening' programme team joining us on details below so come along and join the conversation and find out more about how you can get involved:

For more information or to get involved contact a member of the project team today on 01634 812 850 or contact@mva.org.uk
