Cosentino

This specialist in new surfaces for architecture and design utilises a range of sustainable materials that are ideal for modern kitchens. One of these is Earthie, created in collaboration with design studio Formafantasma. It is made from Silestone XM, an advanced composition of recycled materials, including glass and bio-resin produced from used cooking oil. Shown here in 'Raw A', it costs from £200 a square metre. cosentino.com

Plain English

The most contemporary of this company's styles, 'Osea' works well in this Spanish flat combined with 'Weymouth' iron handles. As with all Plain English designs, the units can be finished in 50 colours, ranging from pale neutrals like this to dramatic blues. Kitchens cost from £70,000. plainenglishdesign.co.uk

Naked Kitchens

Made in Norfolk, Naked Kitchens' designs are entirely bespoke. As shown in this kitchen, 'Glaven' combines sleek, stylish oak units with brushed, limed grain and 'Seal Pup White' painted finishes, 'Norfolk' bar handles and solid oak reeded panelling on the island. Kitchens from £20,000. nakedkitchens.com

Leading lights

Original BTC

A discreet yet decorative option, the 'Hector Medium Bibendum' bone china ceiling light from Original BTC is shown here in the appealing satin brass finish and costs £199. originalbtc.com

Visual Comfort & Co

The result of a collaboration with Kate Spade New York, the 'Bryce Flower Flush Mount' ceiling light is shown with a gold finish and frosted white acrylic shade. Also available in medium, it costs £739 for the larger size. visualcomfort.com

Hector Finch

Designed by Florian Schulz, the 'Duos' adjustable, side-pull pendant light can be raised or lowered easily. Made from brass and with a brushed lacquer finish, it costs £2,106. hectorfinch.com

Occhio

Suspend the 'Mito Sospeso' chandelier above a table for elegant ambient light. In aluminium and steel, it is available in eight finishes, including phantom; from £2,928 for the smaller size. occhio.com
