ART FORM

With a porcelain plate in (from top) pearl white and shell pink and backlit by LED tape, Ochre's 'Mandala' wall lights are like artworks. Each one is individually formed and glazed in a ceramicist's studio, with the irregular edges and undulations giving it a unique appearance. From £1,115 for 24 x 18 x 9.5cm. 020 7096 7372; ochre.net

SWINGING SIXTIES

MindTheGap's new 'Woodstock' lighting is inspired by the geometric and floral prints of the Sixties. This 'Joyce Double Arm' sconce in polished brass is £344 and the 'Myosotis' shades are £32 each. mindthegap.com

RISE AND SHINE

Shown in rose pink, the 'Lucia Double Rise and Fall' light from Hector Finch comes in seven finishes and has ceramic shades hand-thrown in a family-run pottery in Italy. It costs from £1,626. hectorfinch.com

PERFECTLY POISED

Building on the legacy of the first Anglepoise lamp, created in 1932 in a garden shed by George Carwardine, the company's 'Type 80 W2' wall light is available in grey mist as well as matte black. It costs £209. anglepoise.com

GIVE A FIG

Inspired by the bohemian style of Charleston farmhouse, Bloomsbury Revisited striking limited-edition lampshades are created by the artist Jane McCall. This hand-painted 'Fig' small coolie, which measures 23cm diameter, costs £68. 07901 555385; bloomsburyrevisited.co.uk

Plastic fantastic

This Forbes & Lomax 'Invisible' lightswitch is now made from 100 per cent recycled Perspex. Shown here is the '4 Gang Invisible Dolly' switch, £167.50. 020 7738 0202; forbesandlomax.com □
