

UX Builder

SS&C | Blue Prism® UX Builder helps transform customer and employee experiences by empowering the workforce and innovating on demand.

An intuitive no-code development software platform for building enterprise web applications that creates rich customer journeys and relieves reliance on developers and IT.

Break through the development bottleneck

With a shortage of 40 million developers globally, the backlog for tech-driven projects can extend for months. Many industries, including financial services and insurance, lag in digitizing their customer experiences and modernizing internal applications.

UX Builder breaks through the bottleneck by giving business users — who outnumber software engineers by 10 to 1 in most organizations — app development capability.

Build rapidly with no-code

70% of digital transformation projects fail to meet their objectives, according to research from the Boston Consulting Group.

Development takes time and resources. Maintenance of applications can be expensive and business data can be stored in various places and formats that are not easily read or retrieved when needed.

Why UX Builder?

UX Builder helps businesses succeed in their digital transformation by reducing development time from months to hours.

- Simple to use:
 - Build web pages and forms for customers
 - Build internal apps for employees
- Truly no-code, no need to wait for IT
- Seamlessly connect with SS&C Blue Prism digital workers and SS&C | Blue Prism® Chorus services

With UX Builder, business users now have access to tools for creating digital experiences without needing to know a single line of code.

Citizen development

Give control back to business users who know the processes best and 10x faster. With UX Builder, business users can easily build interfaces and data tables without any programming knowledge;

Maintenance free

Maintenance of applications built via UX Builder is easy and requires no or minimal investment.

Rapid transformation

With UX Builder users can build and deploy applications within hours or even minutes.

Eliminate legacy systems

Replace paper with mobile-ready digital webpages. Provide a modern experience for your legacy applications.

Scale your use cases

Build personalized user interfaces for each department with the same tool. This unifies the form-designing process and eliminates the need to maintain custom code.

Delight customers

- Improve digital experiences for customers
- Build intuitive apps without a single line of code

Empower employees

- Boost employee productivity with purpose-built apps
- No-code development for employee apps and interfaces

Innovate on demand

- Develop new experiences
- Scale digital use cases

Create apps without needing to know how to write code

- Develop branded forms, portals and web journeys without code
- Build and deploy in hours

Built-In Intelligent Automation

UX Builder comes pre-integrated with SS&C | Blue Prism® Chorus and SS&C | Blue Prism® Intelligent Automation, giving business users access to a wealth of data and services right out of the box, including automation, rules logic and integrations.

With UX Builder, create end-to-end digital experiences for a variety of customer and employee use cases, including onboarding, branded forms, portals and process interaction. Plus, you can quickly and easily deploy modern user interfaces (UI) on legacy systems and standardize UIs for multiple systems.
