This summer, Tashkeel will deliver some of the most exciting and innovative workshops that will give young artists an opportunity to explore a huge range of creative skills to encourage new levels of creating and making.

16th - 27th August  from 10am to 1pm

CASTING with Salama Nasib

In this workshop, students will learn a variety of different ways to make molds and casts. Students will leave with their casts ready to unleash when they get home.

STAMP MAKING with Salama Nasib

This workshop will teach the students how to make their very own stamps. Students will design and make their stamps using the technique of Linocuts.

SCREEN PRINTING with Khalid Mezaina

Learn how to design and make your own t-shirt using the method of screen-printing and stencil making. Students will work towards a theme and from this create their own artwork to print and make their very own unique t-shirt.

BATIK with Tamsin Wildy

Students will learn the traditional technique of wax-resist dyeing. By following a theme and creating drawing using melted wax. Students will then experiment with dye to create their own, unique pieces of batik. Students should be aged 12+

ULTIMATE SKETCHBOOK with Ruben Sanchez

Taking aspects from their daily lives and experiences, students will create unique sketchbooks that they can take away and continue to add and build on. Students are encouraged to collect everyday materials around them and use those to enhance and develop their own style.

MONO PRINTING with Fatima Albudoor

Students will learn how to mono print and explore a variety of techniques to experiment with color mixing, creating backgrounds, textures as well as hand-drawing to create wonderful pieces of work that are completely unique.

Following the successful summer workshops offered last year, this year's camp will introduce several workshops that range from photography and illustration to screen printing and much more! Join us and learn new skills, make new friends and create unforgettable memories.

16th - 27th August  from 10am to 1pm

DRY POINT ETCHING with Tamsin Wildy

Using the traditional method of dry point etching, this is a technique similar to etching but without the use of acids. Students will create a plate, which can then be printed multiple times. Although the image is always the same the nature of print will mean that each version is individual in some way.

ULTIMATE SKETCHBOOK with Ruben Sanchez

Taking aspects from their daily lives and experiences, students will create unique sketchbooks that they can take away and continue to add and build on. Students are encouraged to collect everyday materials around them and use those to enhance and develop their own style.

ILLUSTRATION with Ruba Al Araji

How can you tell a story without any text? This is one of the jobs of illustrators all over the world. Learn how to illustrate your favorite character or moment from a story. You will learn how to create and develop an illustration from start to finish that tells a story to whoever looks at it, no matter what language they speak.

PIN HOLE CAMERA with Tamsin Wildy or Ammar Al Attar

Learn how an analogue camera works by going back to the basics and building a pinhole camera from start to finish. Students will not only learn how to build a pinhole camera but also have the opportunity of working in a dark room to develop their photographs.

SCREEN PRINTING with Khalid Mezaina

Learn how to design and make your own t-shirt using the method of screen-printing and stencil making. Students will work towards a theme and from this create their own artwork to print and make their very own unique t-shirt.
