General Education Requirements

Qualified transfer students who have a conferred Associate of Arts degree in Digital Cinema Production (DCP) from Oklahoma City Community College (with a minimum of 60 semester hours completed) will be admitted into Oklahoma City University's BFA Film Production degree program as having completed their general education requirements, with the following exceptions:

- OKCU students must satisfy a Religion course requirement (REL 1003 or REL 2513); OCCC students who have taken HUM 2133 – Comparative Religions will have met this requirement.
- OKCU students must complete an approved Service Learning course. This is often paired with an existing course or can be met with as little as a 1 credit hour experience.
- A maximum of 68 credit hours are accepted from two-year college-level institutions.

DCP to FILM Transfer Table

The following table outlines how DCP classes will transfer to the OKCU BFA Film Production curriculum. Each of the DCP courses listed may be counted toward the BFA in Film Production from OKCU. Please note that this table includes all DCP courses deemed transferable by OKCU. An individual DCP student may not take all of the DCP classes listed.
