“His films have eternal relevance, because they deal with the difficulty of personal relationships and lack of communication between people and religious aspirations and mortality, existential themes that will be relevant a thousand years from now. When many of the things that are successful and trendy today will have been long relegated to musty-looking antiques, his stuff will still be great.”

—Woody Allen on Ingmar Bergman

In a staggering coincidence, the world lost two of its most influential filmmaking legends on a single day in 2007: Italian director Michelangelo Antonioni, whose work has been featured in several of our repertory series, and Swedish director Ingmar

Bergman, whose towering career we celebrate with a 10-film “Great Directors” series that’s been a long time coming. With incredible intimacy, Bergman used cinema to explore questions as profound as they come. He was a conceptual genius, a technical master, and a loyal collaborator, working with a regular cast of players—actors Max von Sydow, Bibi Andersson, Harriet Andersson, Gunnar Björnstrand, Ingrid Thulin, and Liv Ullmann, and his longtime cinematographer Sven Nykvist, among others. Though best known for soul-searching, psyche-minding dramas (THE SEVENTH SEAL, WILD STRAWBERRIES, THE VIRGIN SPRING, SUMMER WITH MONIKA, PERSONA, CRIES & WHISPERS, THE PASSION OF ANNA), a Bergman series also comes with wonderful moments of humor and levity (SMILES OF A SUMMER NIGHT, THE MAGIC FLUTE), as well as a sublime amalgamation of it all (FANNY & ALEXANDER). To a picture, his films moved the medium forward—each a cultural event upon its release, all bearing the oft-imitated but never matched signature of the great director.

Film Streams Members Select!

January 4 – 10 Citizen Kane 1941

Directed by Orson Welles.

In 2012, Alfred Hitchcock's VERTIGO made headlines for knocking Orson Welles's CITIZEN KANE off its longstanding perch atop Sight & Sound's list of the greatest films ever made — a transgression decreed by many, and apparently counterbalanced by this, our sixth annual Members Select vote. Your voice has been heard, Film Streams voters, and what you seem to be saying is: Rosebud.

Previous winners: THE BIG LEBOWSKI, THE GODFATHER, CASABLANCA, LAWRENCE OF ARABIA, and DOCTOR ZHIVAGO.

Coming Soon - Omaha Premieres

Starting January 11 Chasing Ice First-Run

Directed by Jeff Orlowski.

A visually breathtaking documentary following acclaimed environmental photographer James Balog as he sets out to change the tide of history by gathering undeniable evidence of our changing planet. USA; 76 min.

Starting January 11 Middle of Nowhere First-Run (R)

Directed by Ava DuVernay.

When her husband is incarcerated, a bright young medical student named Ruby (Gotham Award-winner Emayatzy Corinealdi) is forced to live another life, one marked by shame and separation, until a chance encounter and a stunning betrayal put her on a path of self-discovery. 2012 Sundance Award-winner for Best Director. USA; 97 min.

Starting January 18 The House I Live In First-Run

Directed by Eugene Jarecki.

A heart-wrenching documentary examining how political and economic corruption have fueled the War on Drugs for forty years, despite persistent evidence of its moral, economic, and practical failures. USA; 110 min.

Special Screening: Tuesday, January 22, 7pm, with a post-show panel discussion.

Oscar Shorts!

The Academy Award Nominated Short Films

Starting February 1
Animated & Live Action Programs

February 8 – 14
Documentary Program

Don't miss this year's Academy Award-nominated Short Films. We'll open the Animated and Live-Action programs on February 1, with a one-week run of the Documentary nominees starting a week later. Watch for the announcement of this year's nominees on January 15, then experience them for yourself (and vote for your favorites!) in advance of the awards show (February 24).

Starting January 18 Brooklyn Castle First-Run (PG)

Directed by Katie Dellamaggiore.

An inspiring documentary following an inner city junior high that's won more national chess championships than any other in the country, and five team members whose dedication to the game magnifies their belief in what's possible for their own lives. USA; 101 min.

Starting February 15 Amour First-Run (PG-13)

Directed by Michael Haneke.

"Brilliantly directed with an atypically tender touch by the Austrian director Michael Haneke, this story about an octogenarian husband and wife facing their mortality left [Cannes] audiences stunned with its artistry and depth of feeling." (Manohla Dargis, The New York Times) In French with English subtitles. Austria/France/Germany; 127 min.

Starting January 25 Barbara First-Run (PG-13)

Directed by Christian Petzold.

East Germany, 1980. As punishment for requesting an exit visa, a young doctor is transferred from her prestigious post in Berlin to a small pediatric hospital in the country, where she must weigh her dedication to her patients against a potential escape to the West. In German with English subtitles. Germany; 105 min.

Great Directors: Ingmar Bergman

Generously sponsored by

February 1 – 7 Smiles of a Summer Night 1955

A romantic farce set in turn-of-the-century Sweden, SMILES OF A SUMMER NIGHT brought Bergman—already the director of more than a dozen films—to the world's attention. "A near perfect work," wrote Pauline Kael, featuring "four of the most talented and beautiful women ever to appear in one film (Eva Dahlbeck, Harriet Andersson, Margit Carlqvist, and Ulla Jacobsson)." In Swedish with English subtitles. Sweden; 108 min.

February 15 – 21 Wild Strawberries 1957

On a trip to receive an honorary degree, an aging professor comes to reevaluate his life through a series of flashbacks in this poignant and hugely influential masterpiece. In Swedish with English subtitles. Sweden; 91 min.

February 22 – 28 The Virgin Spring 1960

Following their rape and murder of a young girl, two men unwittingly seek shelter in the home of their victim's parents, where revelation leads to revenge. Academy Award-winner for Best Foreign Language Film. In Swedish/German with English subtitles. Sweden; 89 min.

February 8 – 14 The Seventh Seal 1957

Returning from the Crusades to a plague-ridden homeland, a weary knight (Bergman regular Max von Sydow) plays a fateful game of chess with Death incarnate in the director's groundbreaking allegorical masterpiece. In Swedish with English subtitles. Sweden; 96 min.

February 16, 17, 21 The Magic Flute 1975

Bergman's brilliant adaptation of the Mozart opera is at once faithful to the spirit of its source material and wholly original in execution. A perfect family outing and preview to Opera Omaha's production of "The Magic Flute" at the Orpheum Theater (February 22 & 24)! In Swedish with English subtitles. Sweden; 135 min.

See below for more information about this quarter's family and children's programming. For more about Opera Omaha's production of "The Magic Flute" visit operaomaha.org.

March 1 – 7 Summer with Monika 1953

"The most original film by the most original of filmmakers," wrote Jean-Luc Godard about this bittersweet, in-and-out-of-love story about two young adults who spend a passionate summer together before the realities of their lives, and differences in personalities, force them apart. In Swedish with English subtitles. Sweden; 96 min.

March 15 – 21 Cries and Whispers 1972

An emotionally difficult, brilliantly shot drama, nominated for five Academy Awards, set in a late 19th century manor and centering on the complex relationships among a dying woman (Harriet Andersson) and the two sisters (Liv Ullmann, Ingrid Thulin) who return home to be by her side. In Swedish with English subtitles. Sweden; 91 min.

March 22 – 28 Fanny and Alexander 1982

"Ingmar Bergman's festive and full-bodied dream play—a vision of family life as a gifted boy might have perfected it, replacing his strict family with a generous-hearted theatrical clan." (Pauline Kael) In Swedish/German/Yiddish/English. Sweden/France/West Germany; 188 min.

March 29 – April 4 The Passion of Anna 1969

A chance encounter brings a recluse and widow together, but past lives and personal inconsistencies threaten to end their relationship. Featuring regular Bergman players Max von Sydow, Liv Ullmann, Bibi Andersson, and Erland Josephson. In Swedish with English subtitles. Sweden; 101 min.
