

DEAR SUPPORTERS

2017 was nothing less than monumental for Film Streams. We welcomed one of the greatest actresses of our time, Julianne Moore, for our seventh gala at the Holland Center and broke our previous fundraising record with Feature VII. We celebrated the 10th Anniversary of our original home, the Ruth Sokolof Theater. And most significantly, thanks to the completion of a successful capital campaign that involved more than 700 individuals, families, foundations, and corporations, we celebrated the restoration and reopening of the historic Dundee Theater on December 1st.

All the while, we continued to provide meaningful programs for our community, celebrating the art of film while maximizing its potential to build connections and improve the quality of life for our audiences. And I'm pleased to say, those audiences are growing. We proudly welcomed more than 70,000 patrons for our programs in 2017. Close to 6,000 students from dozens of schools attended daytime education screenings. Another 1,000 took advantage of free programs for students on the first Monday of every month, and more than 1,600 underserved children and families enjoyed free popcorn and tickets to diverse film offerings through our Widman Engagement Fund.

Each of these numbers represent experiences that can shift individual perspectives, promote empathy, and impact lives. The shared experiences we're providing for community members are contributing to the vibrancy of our community and, we hope, to a more just society.

I couldn't be more pleased to report that our first months operating two venues have yielded results well beyond our expectations. One of the most heartening figures is how significantly membership has grown: we are currently proudly serving more than 3,400 households, a more than 66% increase since this time last year. Our staff cares so much and works so hard. Our board is wonderfully engaged and committed. When you choose to support our organization through membership and financial contributions, it is incredibly heartwarming and wonderfully validating.

Best wishes and thanks for a wonderful year,

Rachel Jacobson
Film Streams Executive Director

AN EVENTFUL YEAR

As I look back at my time as Chair of the Film Streams Board of Directors, I am struck by the extraordinary growth our organization has experienced and I am incredibly proud of how this growth has come in service to our mission and community. Our staff and operating budget have doubled over the past few years, but what is most important is the work this translates into: more outstanding new releases reaching a big screen in Omaha, more opportunities for our community to interact with visiting filmmakers and guest artists, more film-education offerings for audiences of all ages, and more time and space devoted to using the power of film as a springboard for face-to-face conversations.

I have served on numerous boards and committees for nonprofits on a local and national level. Film Streams' fiscal responsibility is a model for other nonprofits. Film Streams was a sound organization when I first joined the board in 2009, and it has become even more so in the years since. The 2012 purchase of the building that houses the Ruth Sokolof Theater, our home in North Downtown, was a major step toward long-term sustainability. And now our expansion to the renovated Dundee Theater, paid in full through our successful capital campaign, gives us more ways to fulfill our mission. Already, the Dundee has enhanced our programming capacity and elevated our potential for community impact, while reactivating a beloved historic cinema for Omaha.

This is a great time to be part of Film Streams. As a patron, as a member, as a volunteer, as a funder, as a community partner—whatever your involvement, please know how much we value your role and how excited we are about what the future holds at both the Ruth Sokolof Theater and Dundee Theater. After two years as Chair, I am pleased to welcome my talented colleague Dan Lonergan as the new leader of this terrific board of directors. I look forward to working alongside Dan, Rachel, and the entire Film Streams team as we enter a new era for this organization and we expand the presentation and discussion of film in our community.

See you at the movies.

Sincerely,

Paul G. Smith

Repertory Series

OMAHA STEAKS CLASSICS

Special Thanks to Omaha Steaks for supporting Film Streams' classics and repertory programming.

Special Thanks to WoodmenLife for supporting Film Streams' Forever Young Family & Children's Series.

Great Directors: Douglas Sirk

► Winter 2017

A five-film tribute (all on 35mm) to an auteur who used the maligned genre of melodrama to explore race, class, and gender roles.

Julianne Moore: Selected Work

► Spring 2017

Our tribute to Feature VII guest Julianne Moore spanned the actress' remarkable career, from scene-stealing supporting roles to stand-up-and-take-notice leading turns.

Ten for Ten

► Summer 2017

For the tenth anniversary of the Ruth Sokolof Theater, Film Streams board members and staff surveyed the 1,600 films that illuminated our screens since 2007 and created a group top-ten series.

Gender Revolt! A Celebration of Queer Cinema

► Summer 2017

Generously supported by Sam Walker.

Presented with UNO Women's and Gender Studies Program, this 10-film series featured a sing-along to Hedwig and the Angry Inch (2001), a panel of national scholars weighing in on Dee Rees' Pariah (2011), and a Q&A screening of The Watermelon Woman (1996) with director Cheryl Dunye.

Forever Young Family & Children's Series

► Ongoing

Sponsored by WOODMENLIFE.

Our year-round series for all ages featured 33 titles in 2017, including new international animated films The Breadwinner and My Life as a Zucchini, 90s delights like The Sandlot, and, for good measure, every single Harry Potter movie.

Sights on Sounds

► Ongoing

Fans of great stories and great music were treated to biographical films on departed music legends Leonard Cohen and Chuck Berry and punk gods the Stooges and the Ramones, as well as concert documentaries from the Rolling Stones, Talking Heads, and the monumental 1967 Monterrey Pop Festival.

Restorations & Revivals

The past year brought a host of new restorations, including: 2017 Members Select winner The Graduate (1967); Night of the Living Dead (1968); Kill, Baby...Kill! (1966); Desert Hearts (1985); and a double feature of No Maps on My Taps (1979) and About Tap (1985).

EDUCATION

More than 8,500 students attended free events at our cinemas in 2017, including:

5,983 from 63 schools and 17 districts for screenings and discussions within our Daytime Education Program

1,664 young people, their families, and chaperones who enjoyed free admission through our Widman Fund

1,030 attendees for our monthly Student Night, sponsored by the University of Nebraska at Omaha

Special Thanks to the following for their support of Film Streams' Daytime Education Program: the John W. Carson Foundation through the Nebraska Arts Council and Nebraska Cultural Endowment, the Gifford Foundation, and the Ike and Roz Friedman Foundation.

Special Thanks to the University of Nebraska at Omaha for supporting Film Streams' monthly Student Night. At both Film Streams' Ruth Sokolof Theater and Dundee Theater, the first Monday of every month, all regular shows are FREE for full-time students, any grade and any age.

Courses

We offered six illuminating, multi-week seminars in 2017, all programmed and taught by Film Streams Education Director Diana Martinez, PhD.

Film/Style I & II

► Winter & Spring 2017

Two Courses introducing students to the aesthetic techniques employed by some of the medium's most influential and challenging filmmakers.

The Auteur: Alfred Hitchcock

► Spring 2017

Participants explored the recurring themes and stylistic signatures that define Hitchcock's work.

The Hollywood Musical

► Summer 2017

A study of how the musical, from its early days to the present, depicts moments of utter delight as well as glimpses of complex social realities.

Sirens of Cinema: Women in Pre-Code Hollywood

► Summer-Fall 2017

How lawbreakers, heartbreakers, and fallen ladies helped shape women's roles on- and off-screen.

Film Screams: Resurrection

► Fall 2017

Participants deconstructed horror films to see how filmmakers create surprise and suspense and to explore the social and cultural commentary often lurking beneath.
