

Quality Policy

Why

We want to achieve circular fashion for all

→ We enable our customers to be part of the circular transformation by offering a truly sustainable product with a unique service.

How

Our international team strives on constant learning, innovation, and expertise

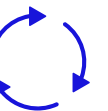

→ We have been pioneering sustainable materials since 1947. To be leaders in our sector, we understand we must support technological innovation in processes and products and allow our team to constantly learn.

→ We strive to guarantee high standards of quality and sustainability for our products, processes, and premises, and allow our customers to be part of the change.

→ We make change happen. Recover™ is composed of a team of international experts in materials science, all devoted to achieving our vision of “circular fashion for all”.

What

We transform textile waste into sustainable recycled fibers, closing the loop on fashion

→ We challenge the market presumptions about recycled textiles.

→ We guarantee a reliable product by systematic quality control and improvement.

→ We see constant learning and improvements as a never-ending challenge.

→ We recognize all relevant requirements and are committed to meeting them systematically.

→ We create recycled cotton fiber and cotton fiber blends from post-industrial, pre- and post-consumer textile waste that are:

- Cost competitive and available at scale
- High quality, best in class (combining art and science, 70+ years expertise)
- Safe and fit for a circular system (product certifications, design for cyclability)
